<td>Our Responsibility Under Auditing Standards Generally Accepted in the United States of America</td>
<td>As communicated in our arrangement letter dated July 23, 2015, our responsibility, as described by professional standards, is to form and express an opinion about whether the financial statements that have been prepared by management with your oversight are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Our audit of the financial statements does not relieve you or management of your respective responsibilities. Our responsibility, as prescribed by professional standards, is to plan and perform our audit to obtain reasonable, rather than absolute, assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement. An audit of financial statements includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, as part of our audit, we considered the internal control of TexPool solely for the purpose of determining our audit procedures and not to provide any assurance concerning such internal control. We are also responsible for communicating significant matters related to the audit that are, in our professional judgment, relevant to your responsibilities in overseeing the financial reporting process. However, we are not required to design procedures for the purpose of identifying other matters to communicate to you.</td>

<tr>
<td>Other Information in Documents Containing Audited Financial Statements</td>
<td>We are not aware of any other documents that contain the audited financial statements. If such documents were to be published, we would have a responsibility to determine such financial information was not materially inconsistent with the audited financial statements of TexPool.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit</td>
<td>We conducted our audit consistent with the planned scope and timing we previously communicated to Mr. Paul Ballard.</td>

As described in Note 1 to the financial statements, the financial statements present only the TexPool investment trust fund and do not purport to, and do not, present fairly the financial position of the State of Texas as of August 31, 2015 and 2014, and the changes in its financial position for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Our opinion was not modified with respect to this matter.

Significant Accounting Policies

Management has the responsibility to select and use appropriate accounting policies. A summary of the significant accounting policies adopted by TexPool is included in Note 1 to the financial statements. There has been no initial selection of accounting policies and no changes in significant accounting policies or their application during the year ended August 31, 2015.

No matters have come to our attention that would require us, under professional standards, to inform you about (1) the methods used to account for significant unusual transactions and (2) the effect of significant accounting policies in controversial or emerging areas for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus.

Significant Accounting Estimates

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management’s current judgments. Those judgments are normally based on knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ markedly from management’s current judgments.
The most sensitive accounting estimate affecting the financial statements is the estimated fair value of investments. Management’s estimate is based on information currently available, and the process used to calculate this estimate should be monitored throughout the year. This estimate was reviewed and it was determined it is reasonable in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Financial Statement Disclosures

Certain financial statement disclosures involve significant judgment and are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. The most sensitive disclosure affecting TexPool’s financial statements relates to investments.

Significant Difficulties Encountered During the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management relating to the performance of the audit.

Uncorrected and Corrected Misstatements

For purposes of this communication, professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those we believe are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management.

In addition, professional standards require us to communicate to you all material, corrected misstatements that were brought to the attention of management as a result of our audit procedures.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, we did not identify any corrected or uncorrected financial statements misstatements.

Disagreements With Management

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, concerning a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, which could be significant to TexPool’s financial statements or the auditor’s report. No such disagreements arose during the course of the audit.

<td>Other Significant Findings or Issues</td>
<td>In the normal course of our professional association with TexPool, we generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, business conditions affecting TexPool, and business plans and strategies that may affect the risks of material misstatement. None of the matters discussed resulted in a condition to our retention as TexPool’s auditors.</td>
